Hello everyone my name is Candice Niu and I am a fourth year Media and Cultural Studies major minoring in Business in UC Riverside. Ever since I was little, I have always dreamed to work in the television and film industry. Whether it was an animator for cartoon, in reality TV show, or a Hollywood movie; I have been obsessed with not only what is on the screen but behind the scene's production. During the winter of 2017 I was extremely fortunate to become a production assistant intern at Big West Production/ESPN3. As a production assistant my job was assisting crew members in their duties while learning how to produce live events in a professional setting. This internship has not nearly gain extensive knowledge of production and broadcast, it has indeed brought me a step closer to my dream. Now let's follow me on this trip to see what it's like to be an intern.
